MAVERICKS

In every wine list there's always a few wines that are slightly non-conformist; the mavericks. We've hand-picked the following which we feel are perfectly suited to our food. Not to be ignored.

WHITE WINE

125ml / Bottle

Assyrtiko 'Monograph', Gaia Wines, Peleponnese, Greece, 2022.....9 / 45

An indigenous grape to the island of Santorini, Gaia's main aim is to present the potential of the Greek grape varieties to wine enthusiasts worldwide. This Assyrtiko can be enjoyed just as much with fine seafood, or on its own, unchaperoned; or perhaps just with good company...

Hondarribia, Hiruzta Txakoli Winery, Basque, Spain, 2022.....9 / 45

Pre-2012 production of Txakoli ("Cha-kho-lee") in Hondarribia was lost in the 1600s. Now thanks to the Hiruzta Project this naturally effervescent wine has been revitalised as the Basque icon that it is.

Pinot Meunier, Blanc de Noir, 'Derringstone' Simpsons Estate, Kent, England, 2022.....11 / 57

Blanc de Noirs, meaning 'white from black'. This white wine has a golden salmon colour, produced when the juice is left in contact with the dark grape skins. The use of red grapes lends lower acidity and offers great aromatic intensity. One glass may just result in a whole bottle.

Barrel Fermented Sauvignon Blanc, Lismore Estate, Greyton South Africa, 2020.....13 / 65

The bracing acidity that is customary in New World Sauvignon Blancs has been brought into balance with a carefully chosen pick date and the barrel fermentation, creating a full-bodied, balanced wine.

Gewürztraminer, 'Selida', Tramin, Alto Adige, Italy, 2022.....12 / 59

Delightfully aromatic with elegant floral notes of roses and lilies, herbal nuances and exotic lychee, mango and passion fruit. Rich in flavour with a refreshing palate full of finely spiced juiciness.

RED WINE

125ml / Bottle

Mariana Tinto, Herdade do Rocim, Alentejo, Portugal, 2022.....7 / 36

Herdade do Rocim is associated with the Sustainable Program of the Alentejo Viticulture. This wine is made from organically grown grapes. The wine was made following a philosophy of minimal intervention, the grapes fully destemmed, lightly crushed and cold macerated to extract aroma and flavour.

Saperavi 'Classical', Vachnadziani Winery, Kakheti, Georgia, 2020.....8 / 40

Georgia is considered to be the 'cradle of wine', as 8,000 year-old indigenous Rkatsiteli grape seeds have been found in clay vessels. Vachnadziani was established in 1953 and is one of the oldest wineries in Georgia. During the Soviet years the vineyard fell into disrepair, but now the vineyards and cellars have received considerable investment. The aim is to preserve their ancient wine culture while combining it with cutting edge technology.

Malbec, 'Tinto de la Casa', Riccitelli, Uco Valley, Argentina, 2022.....12 / 64

This blend is the result of co-fermentation of two Malbec sites. 50% of the grapes come from Las Compuertas, which is situated at 1,100 metres above sea-level. The remaining 50% comes from the premium viticultural area of Gualtallary, where the vines are planted at 1,400 metres above sea-level. The wines produced here have great freshness and a discernible spicy character. The grapes grow thicker skins at high altitudes to protect themselves against the UV rays, resulting in rich, concentrated wines.

Cabernet Sauvignon, Syrah 'Jaspe' Rouge, Chateau Oumsiyat, Bekka Valley, Lebanon, 2020.....7 / 35

While not being the first region you'd think of for wine production, Lebanon has been producing wine for a lot longer than France and Italy. The winemakers at Chateau Oumsiyat passionately create a modern fusion of old world and new, while still respecting the local traditions.

Xinomavro, Akrathos, Halkidiki, Macedonia, Greece 2018.....13 / 74

The vision to create Akrathos began in 2007, when Babis Bekris followed his dream to make wine in the mountainous terroir of Chalkidiki. The ideal site was discovered after exhaustive and targeted research in Northern Greece's Chalkidiki, in the municipality of Aristotle. Constructing a winery so close to the birthplace of Aristotle's historic 'Akanthos' wine felt fortuitous; thus the name Akrathos was chosen.
